
RECOMMENDATION LETTER : AFTER

<DATE>

Dear Admissions Committee:

It is an honor and privilege to recommend Ms. XXXX for admission to the Master of Law in International Economic Law program at the XXXX. I have witnessed Ms. XXXX's development into an effective project manager, and found her to be decisive, intelligent, and to have a passion and commitment to help others.

It has been a pleasure to know Ms. XXXX for two years through my role as the XXXX Faculty Advisor, and as her direct supervisor. Ms. XXXX proposed an ambitious project with the goal of improving economic opportunities for young people through the Economics Opportunity Program (EOP). Ms. XXXX demonstrated professional project design skills by proposing a program that provided students with basic knowledge in economics, entrepreneurial tools, and practical methods for implementing economic concepts. I enthusiastically agreed to advise Ms. XXXX and her team, and enjoyed meeting her several times a month, and corresponding with her during her project.

Ms. XXXX immediately showed the passion and organizational skills necessary to lead a successful team. Although the goal of EOP is appealing, the program itself lacked practical guidance. Ms. XXXX took the initiative to take this broad concept, and transform it into a coherent and comprehensive plan to effectuate change. Initially, the project encountered difficulties, but Ms. XXXX used her project management skills to influence important people. She visited the President of XXXX No.1 High School using her well-prepared preliminary planning book, and gained the support of this administrator.

Ms. XXXX proved to be an effective leader of the EOP program at XXXX University as she combined her strategic management skills with her comprehensive plans to delegate authority to her team members. Her confidence in her team improved morale, and inspired followers to share her vision. She was also extremely versatile. Once when a teammate could not perform a speech, Ms. XXXX showed her extemporaneous speaking skills by discussing her own unique story without any preparation.

She also has the personal qualities and interpersonal skills necessary to be a leader. Perhaps her greatest skill is that she listens, and respects others. During the weekly meetings, she carefully listens to her teammates, offers encouragement, and gives praise. Ms. XXXX focuses on the people as much as the projects. She even does the little things like sending thank-you notes that make the whole enterprise a success.

She also possesses the organizational and coordination skills of a professional project manager by maintaining positive relations with her high school, the media, and me. She kept her regularly informed about the progress of the project, and readily solicited everyone's advice. Her passion and commitment allowed her to develop strong bonds with other EOP team members from other universities as she generously shared her experiences, successes, and failures. Everyone agreed that Ms. XXXX is open-minded, friendly, and optimistic which makes her an excellent addition to a team environment.

Although Ms. XXXX majored in law, she also excelled in business. Her confidence and diligence allowed her to overcome any gaps in knowledge. She also worked very hard by doing extra homework by going to the library or conducting Internet research. She also enjoyed meeting people from her field, and learning from their advice. In her spare time, Ms. XXXX was motivated to pass the Business English Certificate-Higher (BEC-H) to improve both her business knowledge and English skills in business.

Ms. XXXX is well suited to reach her long-term goal of becoming a legal counsel. Ms. XXXX's interest and commitment will allow her to acquire the vast amount of knowledge in law, as well as utilize her wide range of knowledge about complex business transactions. Ms. XXXX has already obtained an outstanding foundation in legal studies through XXXX University, which combined with her work with XXXX, gives her unique business knowledge as well.

I recommend Ms. XXXX without any reservation, and fully support her ambition to further her education at the International Economic Law of the XXXX. With your help, Ms. XXXX can gain a comprehensive understanding of the law combined with an international perspective. I am confident Ms. XXXX will succeed to become an outstanding law student at the XXXX, and become a valuable member of the university community. Please give her application the utmost consideration for admission.

Sincerely,

XXXX
Associate Professor
XXXX University of Political Science & Law
City, Country